

Task 1:

Known our days some people feel that physical money will no longer be used in the future mean while others think that it will still be of great use in the future. This two views are to be considered because each party here has very concrete reasons for believing that this is what is going to happen. For those who say that physical money will no longer be used ,this is due to the fact that there are increasing number of financial institutions such as banks which known keep people's money and create credit cards ,visa cards so as for people to not move with physical money but rather settle their bills using this cards every where they go. So it can be said that people think physical money is not more needed because every where you go payments using cards are available legal and acceptable. For the case of those who say that physical money will still have some use in the future, is because technology does not really affect every domain. Let's take the case of a commercial market or a very big public market like mokolo market in Africa precisely in Yaounde Cameroon where food sellers sell all types of foods on tables, on the floor in stores and some people even walk with this foods on their heads up and down . Most of this people are just hustlers some of them can't afford to create bank accounts cause they do not have those means some do not even have phones and that's how 90% of them take only physical money. I stand for the fact that Physical money will still have it's use in the future .

Moreso, physical money will continue to have it's use in the future no matter the rate at which technology evolves. Physical money is still been used by a very considerate number of people in the world due to the fact that not every one keeps their money in the banks or in mobile accounts so people will still and always have their money at hand .

In addition to facts, if physical money disappears how will little children do considering to the fact that there is a minimum age for some one to have a bank account which is 21years and even for mobile accounts ,most of them have a minimum age they take into consideration before registering some one . Little children are being given physical money for them to satisfy their little desires. Imagine giving a visa card to a small child and he is just strawling with it like that on the road or a mobile phone , this will expose him/her to danger.

Futhermore, physical money will not fade away considering the fact that there are financial agencies who's aims are to produce this paper money for various countries . If paper money is to be eradicated , how will this financial institutions live or grow?

In conclusion, physical money will never stooped to be used .

Task 2:

In many countries today the eating habits and lifestyles of children are different from those of the previous generations and people say that this has had a negative effect on their health.

Moreso, In the previous generations , people used to make sure they feeded them selves very well avoiding all types of un-nutritious meals. In those days people mostly ate what they cultivated that's due to the fact that most people where into agriculture where by they were either rearing animals or they were cultivating food stuffs such as rice, beans, plantain, banana and so on. After planting all this stuffs they will later on harvest them to prepare them and eat. Same for the drinks, they were harvesting natural drinks such as palm wine natively called “matango” in Africa .We can see that back in those days they were basically feeding themselves with direct products from the soils which contained a lot of nutrients which made them to live healthy. But known our days you will see people consuming stuffs such as sweet snacks, fast foods ,alcoholic drinks namely beer, whiskey and wine. And if well analysed most young people known our days basically rely on this type of stuffs 24 hours on 24 hours, 7 days on 7 days and some others even 365 days on 365 days which later on causes very big harm to their body. That’s how known our days most people suffer from alimentary intoxications, constipation, diabetics, anaemia and so on.

In addition to the facts, the lifestyle of people known our days and that of the previous generations is totally different and it even keeps on getting worsen as days goes on. Known our days 90% of girls think that wearing shorts stuffs is what makes them pretty or is what attracts men to them. That is how young ladies and even some old ladies put on exposed clothes in other to attract men towards them . Whereas in those days most women where always making sure they wore clothes that were covering them from head to toe ensuring that no part of their body was exposed.

Futhermore, youngsters known our days have this habits of talking to their parents anyhow. They behave as if no one has to tell them what to do and that is how they lack respect to their elder ones talking to them any how where as in the olden days it was a taboo for young people to disrespect their elder ones. For example known our days when a child commits a crime and their parents want to punish them for that , they will threaten to call the police on their parents and they are very capable of lying to the police that their tutor or parent threaten their live which is very bad .

Conclusively, the way this present generation behaves can literally put us in a very big danger in the future.
